Honor Society Announces Project

The combined College and High School Honor Society is sponsoring as its project a plan which will recognize and conserve the best work done by Trevecca Students. The main objective is to stimulate interest and give an incentive to scholarship in writing themes in all departments.

All teachers are encouraged to submit students' papers (on any subject) which they judge to be worthy of special recognition on grounds of scholarship and originality. These will be delivered to a special board of judges composed of members of the Zeta Chapter of the Phi Delta Lamda who will choose from them the best from each major department.

A certificate of award will be presented to the writer of the best paper of the year in the last chapel service, and Trev-Echoes will give such space as it sees fit to recognition of the writer and his paper. A special plaque will be placed in the lobby of the McClurkan Building explaining the contest, and the name of yearly winners will be engraved on bronze strips to be added to the plaque each year. Also, copies of the best papers from each department submitted during the year will be bound in a semi-permanent binder and placed in the school library for use by students and faculty.

We believe that the work done by Trevecca students is of the highest quality and worthy being recognized and conserved. We are depending on you to uphold our beliefs.

Peabody Director Visits Reading Clinic

Miss Mildred Hoyt, Director of the Child Study Center at George Peabody College, visited Trevecca recently. She and an assistant, William Lewis, came to observe Trevecca's Reading Clinic which is under the supervision of Mrs. M. E. Spruill. Mrs. Spruill was a student under Miss Hoyt during the fall quarter of this year at Peabody and was happy to have

A Cappella Choir To Make Tour

"Eagerness" is the by word of each A cappella choir member. One remarked, "Why must we wait until the 31st?" But then he realized what is yet to be accomplished.

Mr. Keys has hired a forty-one passenger Tennessee Coach. It is said to be their newest and most modern bus. A big sign in red letters will be posted on its side stating, "Trevecca College A Cappella Choir."

At mid-noon of March 31, forty young people will bid our Alma Mater adieu for thirteen great days. They will represent T. N. C. in seventeen different zone services, contacting 250 of our Nazarene Churches. The tour will extend as far north as Wierton, West Virginia, to the deep South, in Columbia, South Carolina. Many places of interest are lined up for the Choir to visit. One entire day will be spent in our Nation's Capitol.

The program to be presented by the Choir each night will be in groups of three. The first group is to be semi-classics; the second, Negro Spirituals; and last, new arrangements of our church hymns. These will be interspersed by musical numbers from various groups in the Choir.

Bennetts Celebrate Twenty - fifth Anniversary

On Saturday, February 27, Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Bennett held open house at their home in celebration of their twenty-fifth anniversary. Evan Bennett, their, son assisted in receiving the guests.

A musical program was presented by singers from First Church and Inglewood Church.

The home was decorated throughout with spring flowers with appropriate table decorations of white candles, snap dragons and white carnations with silver leaves.

All of the gifts given to the Bennetts were of silver, some being: a covered vegetable dish given by the faculty of Trevecca, a silver plate by Dr. and Mrs. Mackey, a silver service set from First Church and many other beautiful gifts.

The occasion was unusual in that most of the bridal party and some who attended the wedding were able to attend the anniversary celebration.

We wish for the Bennetts many more happy years together.

Fisk Choir To Give Concert

On Friday March 19, the Music Club will present the Fisk University Choir in a musical concert in McClurkan Alumni Auditorium. The choir is composed of approximately one-hundred members under the direction of Mr. von Bergen.

The program will consist of three Welsh Folk Songs for men's voices, three Madrigals for women's voices, composed by Thomas Weelks, The Echo Song by Orlando di Lasso; Traditional Austrian Song or sometimes known as the Orchestra Song; A number of Negro spirituals and sacred music will also be presented.

After the program the Fisk University Choir will be the guests of the Music Club at a reception held in the Auditorium of the Fine Arts Building.

The Fisk Choir appeared at Trevecca last year and was well received by all who attended. We shall be looking forward to another great appearance.

Peabody Madrigalians Inaugurate New Auditorium

The Fine Arts Auditorium was inaugurated into service to the college on March 5. The college was privileged to have an excellent vocal group to present our first program in the new auditorium. The Peabody Madrigalians entertained and inspired us with a high type well-planned program. The fine quality of the program evidenced a great amount of diligent preparation. The vocal group consisted of two first sopranos, two second sopranos, two altos, two tenors, and two basses. It is the desire of all those concerned that the cultural programs to be presented in the new auditorium in the years to come will be of the same excellent quality of the fine inaugural.

Be Consistent!

Every Christian young person ought to pursue sincere endeavors in living close to the Master. It certainly is his duty to live so that he can testify to the fact that "Every day with Jesus is sweeter than the day before." If he cannot say this, he evidently is not trying to live close to God. A close walk with the Master is absolutely free, yet it is the most precious and the most desirable possession we can have on this side of eternity. Yes, it is free except for the price of consistency to God.

It is not always easy to be consistent with the essentials of Christian living. Consistency often demands sacrifice; but sacrifice strengthens our desire to be consistent. It is sometimes necessary to forsake legitimate entertainment in order to do that which we know we should do. We as Christian students recognize the necessity of daily prayer; the inspiration in daily Bible reading; the value in daily diligent studying. To be consistent is to make these prominent in our every day schedule, denying those temptations which would deteriorate our consistency with these essentials. When we exercise the denying of such temptations it helps us to be consistent and produces a desire to be more consistent each day.

Dietition Is Doing Excellent Work

There is great rejoicing as we watch the tile being laid for the new cafeteria which we are told will be in use before too long. However, at the present time everyone is cooperating very well with the facilities that are available.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cunningham and the kitchen workers have taken over very efficiently preparing the meals in the kitchen in spite of the disadvantages that must be faced, such as plaster dropping off the walls and ceilings at some unexpected times, the inconvenience of serving food in the kitchen, etc. They have done a splendid job in organizing and operating the present temporary cafeteria system and we express to each our sincere appreciation.

The meals are being prepared in the kitchen; the students enter through the stack room and after having chosen the food they desire, take it up to the reception room which is being used as the dining hall until further arrangements are made.

Some students have said that the food is better than ever and we urge you to patronize the cafeteria as much as possible.

Thanks again to Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham.

her observe the work. Miss Hoyt was especially interested because Peabody is beginning a similar reading clinic at Sewart Air Base with which she will be connected. She was very complimentary of Mrs. Spruill's work and the equipment, which has been purchased to aid in this new division, and also Trevecca campus and buildings.

This complimentary visit from Miss Hoyt, a Peabody faculty member is an encouragement to Trevecca in the beginning stages of the reading clinic.

Mrs. Spruill served tea and cookies and introduced Miss Hoyt to President and Mrs. Mackey and others of Trevecca's faculty.

Chapel Bells

Ding! Dong! The chapel bells ring out as an appeal to T. N. C. students to attend the chapel services where they receive the inspiration to live "not somehow but triumphantly."

The chapel messages have been uplifting and inspiring. Rev. M. E. Redford brought a challenge in the message, "Do the work of an Evangelist." He brought out the thought that, "if you have Christ in your heart you can appeal to young people and win them for Christ." Also he stated the well-known fact that the soul saving business is every Christian's job.

We also were favored to have Rev. Jim Short bring a revealing message on "Officework of the Holy Spirit." He spoke from several passages of Scripture including the books of First Timothy, Second Corinthians, and the fourteenth chapter of John.

The past week has been filled with messages from our student preachers. The first was brought by Rev. Jerry Costa on Holiness. He spoke from the sixth chapter of Deuteronomy, the twenty-third verse. "And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he swore unto our Fathers."

The following day Rev. Earl Pierce brought a soul-stirring message on "The bitterness of lost opportunity." He took his theme from the familiar story of the ten virgins found in the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew.

Another good message was brought the next day by Rev. Grant Browning on the theme, "But this one thing I do." He urged the students to know God, be strong, do exploits for the Lord and put everything into one purpose of life and that is to live the best life possible for God.

Rev. Paul Hess climaxed the week with an excellent message on "The Promised Holy Spirit. A number found victory at the altar.

Klick Klub News

A meeting to organize a photography club was held on February 25. Charles Hodge, Willard Brinkman, and Louis Johnson were chosen to draw up a constitution, choose a name for the club, etc. These were presented to and accepted by the prospective members on March 4. The constitution has been put before the Administrative Committee of the school and we hope soon to announce it as an official club.

The purpose of the club is to

Global Glimpses

Joseph McCarthy, the communist-exposing senator of Wisconsin has again been faking prominence in the headlines of the daily newspapers. And again he is differing with President Eisenhower in his views. This upshot seemed to indicate a widening split between what might be described as the White House and McCarthy wings of the Republican party.

Recently McCarthy has declared that secretary of the Army Stevens has been aiding the Communists. Also McCarthy has similarly accused Brig. General Ralph Zwicker. Instead of backing the senator the President gave praise to Zwicker. McCarthy blasted back that he is going right along exposing anybody found aiding the Communists. "If a stupid, arrogant or witless man in a position of power appears before our committee and is found aiding the communist party, he will be exposed. The fact that he might be a General places him in no special class so far as I am concerned," said McCarthy.

Let us leave the senator now and see what the excitement is on the other side of the Capitol building. Here in the House of Representatives we see four members of the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico gain sudden notorious fame by shooting about twenty times into the House chamber. Through none fatally injured, five congressmen after being shot down were rushed to the hospital while Capitol policemen immediately seized the Puerto Rican fanatics. They cried out, "We want freedom in Puerto Rico."

Less than forty-eight hours after the wild shooting a fast-moving federal grand jury indicted the four Puerto Rican terrorists. The twenty-three member jury returned indictments of ten counts on each of them. If convicted on all ten counts, each could be sentenced to one hundred twenty-five years in prison. The house Un-American Activities Committee, meanwhile, opened an investigation of the U. S. members of Puerto Rico's Nationalist party to determine if the shooting were part of an "organized subversive plot."

increase interest, appreciation and knowledge in photography.

The yearly project of the club shall be to assist photographically, the school and its publications.

If you are interested in photography, meet with us on Thursdays after chapel.

Imagine This !!

"Robin, I must say this world is a changeable place. One minute the sun is shining; the next minute it's snowing," chatted the sparrow on the tower. "And it's March!! I couldn't make it up to the tower that day of the snow because my wings were weighted with snowflakes; so I went on a tour of the classrooms. I hadn't slept well the night before and I had been in a nervous strain for some time. As I looked in on the classes my mind suddenly gave way and my IMAGINATION went haywire.

Professor Hammond came racing into harmony class singing, "Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells, Jingle all the way." He snatched a piece of chalk from his desk and began to write the music to "Summertime" on the board!! He wrote feverishly for a few minutes and then he turned to the class and screamed "Merry Christmas! Everyone! The class clapped their hands and responded "Happy Washington's Birthday, Professor"! . . . A snowflake hit me so hard at that moment that I was knocked from my perch and landed on the window sill of the English Literature class. Ruby Potter was standing in the middle of the room reciting Shakespear's "Macbeth." She was coming to the horrible climax—the murder of Duncan!! Suddenly, there was a terrible scream, a thud . . and silence . . Miss Person had fainted. . . I flew down in a daze to the speech room. A robbery was taking place. Violet Coulter, Carol Poling, Pat Thompson and Thelma Poling were holding up the class with water guns!! The students were pleading for mercy and Miss Cooner was standing on a chair shouting "Boom Lay Boom Lay! Boom Lay Boom!!" I hurried to the library to rest my nerves but Howard Spruill and Harold McCue were playing ping pong on the tables!! Jayne Ledorf was running around the room screaming "Fire! Fire! Fire!" Iris Gunther was sitting on an encyclopedia reading a book "How to be a good librarian." Mrs. Mackey was asleep in the corner!! Just then there was a terrible explosion in the chemistry lab. Dr. Gresham had been experimenting with nitroglycerine and had dropped it!! The journalism class with Harry Evans as fire chief and Mrs. Phillips as assistant came running down the hall with fire extinguishers . . Charles Hodge slipped on

Korean Nazarenes Receive Clothing

A letter of thanks was recieved from Chaplain Stroman a short while ago. He expressed his deep appreciation for the clothes which each contributed to the clothing drive for the Koreans. The Korean Nazarenes themselves expressed their thanks to him personally and wanted him to pass it on to each who gave. Chaplain Stroman states in the letter that the work is becoming more promising each month. The Advisory Committee to the Commanding Officer of this base has approved a project to furnish materials to build a school building for a Church under the Armed Forces Aid to Korea Program.

a banana peeling and knocked a hole in the floor!! A hunk of plaster hit Robert Gilliland and knocked him out. Mrs. Gresham knelt by his side and cried, "Put him in formaldehyde! put him in formaldehyde!" Dr. Stunecck stood amid the excitement with a book in her hand and said, "Students, I'd like to assign chapter eight for tomorrow" . . . The specimens in the zoology lab were broken during the rush. A dog fish and a stuffed owl were in conversation. The dog fish was sobbing as he told the owl about the serious operation he was going to undergo the next day under the skillful hands of Dr. Oscar Fitzwater and Nurse Frances Foster. Wayne Shelton was crying out loud in sympathy!! Mrs. Keys came sliding down the bannister and said " Oh, Happy Day! the choir is practicing and I'm off for the day."

Oh, Robin! At last I came to

This building, if the money for labor can be obtained, will be constructed this spring of native blue granite and will be a permanent building belonging to the Church of the Nazarene which would be an eight or ten thousand dollar asset to the work there.

"These people are hungry for the full gospel," says Chaplain Stroman." They are looking for something to take away the heaviness of their heart. I have found our own Nazarene people are energetic and dependable. There are very few "rice-Christians" among them. We can afford to "back" the work here to the limit of our ability."

rest on the back of a chair in Greek class but Eunice Wachtel threw a book at me and I lost consciousness. I awoke in a nice clean cage with mercurochrome and bandages on my head and sedatives and medicines on a table beside me, The doctor was a kind ole bird with the word "psychiatrist" printed on his jacket. New Arrivals

"Rock a bye baby," This has become a familiar phrase in many of our T. N. C. homes. The proud fathers just couldn't keep from bragging a little; so I'll pass on the information I heard floating through the air. Away back in November the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Berquist was blessed with the birth of Eugene Timothy, a bouncing baby of nine pounds. The following week Mr. and Mrs. John Adams presented the world with another charming girl, Johnine Sue, weighing seven pounds.

January twenty-fifth was a red-letter day in two of our Trevecca homes. Mary Frances Hampton weighing eight pounds and six ounces, and William Bracken Ingram weighing eight pounds and three ounces brought joy to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hampton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingram.

On February thirteenth James De Waine Laing came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Laing. James De Waine tipped the scales at seven pounds and eleven ounces. The most recent birth occurred on February fifteenth when Martha Anita, a seven pound and eleven ounce baby girl, came to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Bennett.

We send hearty congratulations and best wishes for the future of these future T. N. C. students.

I told him the whole terrible story. He nodded his head and said "Oh I see." He asked me to open my mouth and say aah; then he made me rest . . . I stayed there several days. The doctor watched me constantly. At last he let me return on probation, but as I left he admonished me to never, never let my imagination get out of control and play tricks on me on the tower.

Saturday, March sixth will go down in sports history at T. N. C. as the climax to the greatest basketball season in the school's history. This is the date for the championship play offs between the Sophomores and Freshmen who finished in a tie for first place. The Sophomores proved their right to be champions by winning 48 to 38 before one of the largest crowds of the regular season.

One of the talks given by Dr. Mackey recently was along the line of not blowing up under pressure. One of the fundamentals of becoming a good player in any realm of sports is to be able to master your emotions. There is no better place to learn this essential to a successful life than on the basketball court, ball diamond or football field.

Pressure is great on every player, especially during a close game, but more so on the captain of the team. He asks himself, "Do I have the right men in the game? Should I make some changes and put in another man?" Not one time but dozens of times do these questions race through his mind. They are hard questions to answer, too, especially when you have several players of the same calibre as do most of the teams this year.

There is a beautiful trophy case now standing in McClurkan lobby. Let's keep it looking nice by not cluttering it up with books etc.

Tournament Finals

Lucy Holt Memorial Gym was the site of the basketball finals March 13th. A consolation game at 7:00 p.m. and the finals at 8:15 p.m. made up the Friday night program. The largest crowd of the season was present.

The Sophomore Lions won the tournament defeating the Upperclassmen 60 to 37 and the Freshmen took third place defeating the High School 48 to 37 in the consolation game.

The "most valuable player" award went to Elmer Heaberlin, Jr. and the Sophomores were presented the championship trophy.

Eagles Defeat Lions
In Overtime 56-52

In their final game of seasonal play the Upperclassmen (3-6) defeated the Sophomore five (6-3) in overtime 56 to 52.

The game was nip and tuck from beginning to end. The Lions were out front 14-10 after one quarter and led at half-time 25-21, due largely to the sharp shooting of White who scored 13 points first half.

Led by Captain Heaberlin the Eagles closed the gap in the third quarter and tied the score at 36-36. The game see-sawed in the final period with Spruill of the Lions and the Eagles' Grant Browning doing most of the scoring.

With ten seconds left to play the Lions led 52-50. Holmes bringing the ball up, shot a do or die shot from half court that found its mark and time ran out with the score tied 52-52.

In the overtime the Lions took the tip but lost the ball and Heaberlin scored for the Eagles. Playing under heavy pressure the Lions seemed to let down after that and Heaberlin scored again to give the Eagles a 56-52 win.

Heaberlin was high scorer with 23. Spruill led the losers with 20 and White was impressive for the losers scoring 17.

Freshmen Defeat
Hurricanes 59-53

The Freshmen five, after tailing the first half, came back strong in the last two periods of the last regular season game to defeat a determined high school quintet 59 to 53. The win moved the green-wave into a first place tie with the Sophomore Lions.

Led by Murphy the Hurricanes were ahead 14-11 at the first quarter stop and 25-22 at half-time. Tom Pate, performing like a pro, led his team in a third quarter rally—one that saw them scoring 22 points that quarter and put them ahead 44 - 39.

The high school, playing good ball and wanting victory, played too hard and four of their players fouled out. Rodgers kept them 24. Most of his help came from Shelton who accounted for 14. Murphy's 19 points was high for the Hurricanes.
